

No. 1 knowledge-intensive agtech ecosystem

Tiny country The Netherlands is changing the way the world farms, combining business and practical experience with leading research and developments (source: National Geographic). East Netherlands is home to number 1 Food and Agriculture University Wageningen and the most entrepreneurial university of the Netherlands, Technical University of Twente. Foodvalley, around Wageningen, tops the list of appealing investment regions for many agrifood innovators worldwide and has an ideal mix of multinationals, small and medium enterprises, startups and research institutes.

East Netherlands: a highly innovative agtech cluster

“The choice for The Netherlands was based on several reasons: the level of education, a multilingual population, easily accessible by road, train and air and very well connected to the rest of Europe. The Netherlands is furthermore frontrunner in agriculture, with Wageningen University and Research (within 20 minutes drive from Heumen) as its beating heart.”

Alfred Rol
Regional Business Manager - EMEA,
Ag Leader

“Wageningen University & Research is the number one agriculture university in the world; internationally they are highly regarded and we have maintained a close relationship with them for many years now.”

Peter van der Vlugt
General Manager,
Kubota Innovation Center Europe

M Business climate

Wageningen and the surrounding Foodvalley are home to a vibrant, highly educated, international research community dedicated to food, nutrition and agricultural sciences. With more than 3,000 agrifood related companies, institutes and a community of more than 10,000 agrifood experts from over 110 nationalities, it has become an internationally acclaimed R&D hotspot. Wageningen University & Research forms the center of an agrifood research hub.

Three Research Universities and five Universities of Applied Sciences educate multi-skilled talent for future challenges in agrifood such as nutrition, biobased materials, agtech and protein transition.
