

Accelerate your medtech business in East Netherlands

East Netherlands is unique as a testbed and development location for innovative medical technology companies. With several larger medtech companies nearby and a strong cooperation of over 300 businesses, small and large healthcare providers, knowledge institutes and investors within the Health Valley network, this thriving and still growing ecosystem is the place to be to boost your medtech innovation into Europe.

East Netherlands: a vibrant Health ecosystem

Only in East Netherlands you can find such a strong, vibrant representation of qualified Health business partners, technologies, talent and government support.

This ecosystem is boosted by a funding injection from the EU of €110 billion Euros, to help companies such as yours to succeed with Life Sciences & Health Europe.

If your company is active in the Health value chain, East Netherlands is the place to be.

"We chose the Netherlands as our European base because of the strategic location, large start-up scene, strong medical research institutes and focus on innovation."
